The Gulf of Gokova, an enchanting fjord in southwest Turkey, is where the Aegean Sea meets the eastern Mediterranean. Flanked by majestic mountains to the south and guarded by the Greek island of Kos, its tranquil waters are a captivating blend of modern life and ancient history.

Bodrum (ancient Halicarnassus), located on the northeast of the fjord, boasts a magnificent Crusader castle, excellent shopping, and a vast array of restaurants and hotels. To the southwest lies ancient Knidos, a significant ruined trading city dating back over 3,000 years, currently undergoing excavation.

As you venture deeper into the Gulf, you'll discover serene bays and small islands adorned with pine trees, offering peaceful havens far from the hustle and bustle. History surrounds you - even Cleopatra visited these shores!

TESTIMONIALS

"Just wanted to say another big thank you for helping organise our trip.

It exceeded the already very high expectations we had, and the crew on board made the entire experience unforgettable. It was truly relaxing from start to finish, and we were able to create some really special memories with the family that we'll cherish forever.

We really appreciate all the effort that went into making it such a smooth and enjoyable time."

MILES BLAVER-MANN.

"I loved every minute of the holiday. Waves lapping, clear seas, beautiful bays, lots of toys, Tugay's cooking and backgammon skills, Onur's calmness and marvellous ability to produce a perfect cup of tea at sunrise and a glass of wine at sunset. Toprak's strength, and wonderful Captain Zeki - I can't imagine a more considerate, happier leader. It was so easy to let go and relax.

The food was all so fresh and delicious yet I didn't put on a pound."

EMMA CANDLISH.

"The holiday was absolutely amazing. The boat is beautiful and the crew were outstanding. The most relaxing week of our lives. We love you Salamander."

CLAUDIA WINKLEMAN.
